Aloha,

My name is Tom Brower. I was born at Kapiolani Medical Center in Honolulu. My ethnicity is Japanese, German and Irish.

As a child I grew up in Waikiki and the New Jersey shore. I have been a Ena Road, Waikiki resident for the last 24 continuous years. I am an eight year neighborhood board member and former Waikiki Residents Association president.

I am a Journalism graduate of the University of Hawaii. My work experience includes the Honolulu City Council as a senior aide to Council Budget Chair Ann Kobayashi, the Hawaii state legislature as a legislative aide to House Vice-Speaker K. Mark Takai, a development director for Ronald McDonald House Charities of Hawaii and as a broadcaster for KSSK in the news and promotion department.

My Grandparents Jean and Albert Ikeda became Waikiki residents in 1972, prior to that they lived on Oahu since the 1950s. My Mom was born in an internment camp and today is a retired school teacher living in the Ala Moana area. My Dad is a retired police sergeant and former U.S. Marine. My uncle has a 2nd generation family auto business in Kakaako and is the director of the Honolulu Festival and Kintetsu parades.

Thank you for taking the time to read about me, to learn more about me and my position on important Hawaii issues please visit www.tombrower.com or call me at 398.5653.

Mahalo,

Tom Brower
